History - An Introduction

As well as our interest in the future of the centre, we are also documenting and archiving information about its history and design.

Design is covered under the design tab and this tab concentrates on articles which are more historical in nature.

Brief History from 1963 to Present is an overview taken from many sources.

The Architect's Journal article contains comments by the centre's Architect Eric Lyons and a review.

Available as a low resolution (2.8 MB) and a high resolution (17.8 MB) PDF, please select the version appropriate for your Internet connection speed.

There are also other articles of an historical nature on the Past Traders tab.

Articles on the History tab and Past Traders tab will be added to as we obtain more information and any historical documents, photographs or text will be welcome as source material from which to build future entries.
